

PH: HOPE IS A VERB (30 seconds)

Hope is a verb, it calls us to action. Pulmonary hypertension is a disease. It affects up to 40% of scleroderma patients, 32% of sickle cell patients, 1 of every 200 AIDS patients; it also attacks those with lupus, sleep apnea, and COPD. It has no cure, yet, but there is hope on the horizon. To be part of the solution, or to find out more about pulmonary hypertension, visit www.PHAssociation.org.
